KOIAS Talk on Philosophy and Literature at the University of Florence

KOIAS member Alberto Parisi was invited to give a talk as part of the Etica della Letteratura series at the Philosophy and Literature Department of the University of Florence.

In his presentation, “Rimaterializzare la Stimmung: Nervi e atmosfera in Hugo von Hofmannsthal e Hermann Bahr” (Rematerializing Stimmung: Nerves and Atmosphere in Hugo von Hofmannsthal and Hermann Bahr), Parisi explored the evolution of the concept of Stimmung—a German term blending mood, harmony, and atmosphere—from its origins and initial internalization to its material reinterpretation in late 19th-century Vienna. By analyzing the works of Hofmannsthal and Bahr, Parisi revealed how their poetic theories grounded Stimmung in the materiality of the body and the nervous system, offering a revolutionary vision of human experience as inherently atmospheric and corporeal.

KOIAS continues to foster international dialogue at the intersection of literature, philosophy, and atmospheric studies.
