The Kobe Institute for Atmospheric Studies (KOIAS) is delighted to announce the publication in The Philosophical Quarterly of the article “What are Atmospheres?” by KOIAS member Takuya Niikawa, co-authored with Pablo Fernández Velasco.

The article advances an analytic philosophical approach to atmospheres offering a rigorous philosophical examination of the nature and ontological status of atmospheres grounded in metaphysics and phenomenology.

The article can be found here: <https://academic.oup.com/pq/advance-article/doi/10.1093/pq/pqaf024/8092961>.

KOIAS encourages readers to engage with this work and looks forward to further dialogue on atmospheric matters.
